Governor Signs Bill For State Highway Survey

LANSING (AP)—Legislation providing for a full-dress engineering and fiscal study of Michigan's highway needs was signed into law by Gov. Williams today.

The bill allows up to $50,000 to be spent on the survey, but the lawmakers released only $25,000.

Judges Get Raise
Williams also signed a measure increasing the state salary of Circuit and Recorder's Court Judges from $9,000 to $12,500.

Other bills signed:
Bring floricultural products under the farm produce law regulating advertising, payment for stock and similar items.

Give the state court administrator all the powers of the presiding circuit judge.

Require the pay of village presidents and trustees to be fixed by ordinance, repealing specific sums fixed by statute.

Allow the Wayne County board of supervisors to advance general fund money to bail out drainage and sewer bond issues.

TB Subsidy Boosted
Raise the state subsidy for tuberculosis patients from $3.50 to $4 a day.

Require foreign savings and loan associations advertising to do business in Michigan to qualify to do such business under state law and make various technical changes in laws governing savings and loan associations.

Revise the procedure for appeals from decisions of the state corporation and securities commission on corporation franchise tax liability.

Allow Detroit to convey to the state land for a neuropsychiatric institute now being constructed.
Provide that all surplus funds remaining after a school district refunding program is completed shall belong to the debt retirement fund.

Saginaw River Control Gets OK

WASHINGTON (AP)—A multi-million-dollar flood control project for Michigan's Saginaw River Valley was one step further advanced today.

It now has the approval of the Army board of engineers for rivers and harbors.

The board gave its approval Friday after being so urged by Claude A. Stewart, vice chairman of the Saginaw Valley regional planning commission.

The project, including flood control or major drainage projects in several areas, would cost 11½ million dollars.

The recommendation now goes to Maj. Gen. Samuel D. Sturgis, chief of engineers, who must pass on it before it can go to Congress. Stewart said Michigan members of Congress would try to include the project in an omnibus flood control bill to be considered this year by Congress.

The plan would include drainage projects or flood control in Frankenthum, Vassar, Sanilac Flats, Flint, Owosso, Corunna, Midland and the Shiawassee Flats.

The Shiawassee Flats project alone would cost the government an estimated $6,307,700. This would not include $2,589,600 as the government's share of a proposed fish and wildlife refuge in the flats.

About 500 Saginaw County landowners are opposed, however, and have signed a petition against the refuge.

Chairman Mundt Plans To Shorten McCarthy Inquiry

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Mundt (R-S.D.) says an attempt may soon come to shorten the public probe of the flaming dispute between Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and his aides and top military officials.

Mundt, chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee during the televised inquiry, said Friday night the hour may shortly be at hand for efforts to narrow the issues that have now been pitted before the senators in seven days of under-oath hearings without signs of let-up.

Weekend Recess
Secretary of the Army Stevens, who first took the witness stand the opening day, April 22, was still there when the group recessed for the weekend Friday, although several others have testified for brief interludes. Stevens was listed for another appearance Monday.

As the hearings closed Friday Ray H. Jenkins, special subcommittee counsel, drew from Stevens an acknowledgment that when the Army secretary was thinking of relieving Maj. Gen. Kirke B. Lawton from command at Ft. Monmouth, N. J., he so informed McCarthy "to find out how Sen. McCarthy felt about it."

Still In Command
Stevens, under stiff questioning, said that McCarthy wanted Lawton continued in command because the general was "cooperating fully" with McCarthy's investigation, and that in fact Lawton was left in command at Ft. Monmouth and still is.

But the secretary said he was "not afraid" of a McCarthy reprisal if Lawton was removed, that he gave McCarthy the information on Lawton as part of his own policy of cooperating with the Senate probe, and that he decided to retain Lawton strictly "on the merits" of his case.

Stevens has charged McCarthy and his associates with seeking favored Army treatment for Pvt. G. David Schine, a former McCarthy committee non-salaried consultant. McCarthy has accused Stevens and his aides of attempting to stop his investigation of alleged Communists at Ft. Monmouth's radar center.

6 Injured In Auto Accident

MENOMINEE—Five Escanabans and a Gladstone woman were injured this morning in an automobile accident a mile south of Wallace. All were taken to St. Joseph Hospital, Menominee.

Most seriously injured are Mrs. Robert Miller, 16th St., Gladstone, and Mrs. Arvid Isacson, 1406½ Ludington St., Escanaba.

Others injured are Mrs. Viola Goodman, 204 N. 12th St., Escanaba; Mrs. Nettie Seidl, 1401½ First Ave. N. and her two children John, 16 and Doris, 14.

All were driving to Menominee to attend the DAV convention there. Mrs. Miller was driving the car and lost control when her car got off the pavement while Mrs. Miller was passing another vehicle. The car overturned.

The extent of the injuries has not yet been determined. The mishap occurred about 10 o'clock, Escanaba time.

ter. Both sides have denied the others' charges.

Not Good for GOP
Mundt said the inquiry group discussed in a closed session Friday the possibility that opposing counsel could get together to narrow some of the issues in dispute.

Asked about the possibility of some compromise, McCarthy said before he left for weekend speaking engagements in Wisconsin that "off hand, I wouldn't know of any way it could be done." Army counsel was unavailable for comment.

McCarthy was also asked about reports that he might try to end the inquiry by claiming that the Army had failed to prove its charges and then walking out.

The Wisconsin senator is the subcommittee's regular chairman, but has stepped off the group for purposes of the inquiry. However, both his side and the Army's have the right to question witnesses.

Some Republicans have made no secret of their belief that the GOP is being damaged politically by the spectacle of Republican appointees clashing with Republican elected officials and their aides.

Democrats Hold Big Rally In Detroit But Ranks Are Split

DETROIT (AP)—Democrats get together for their big Jefferson-Jackson day rally tonight. Ahead of the affair, however, there was anything but full peace in the family.

Senatorial candidate Patrick V. McNamara's blast against party leadership caused division in the ranks. He is a former Detroit councilman and AFL labor leader.

McNamara, acting on the eve of the $25-a-plate party blowout which headlines Sen. Symington (D-Mo.), charged Friday that the state party machinery has been "rigged" in favor of his August state primary opponent, ex-Sen. Blair Moody.

He accused party heads of "scuttling" historic neutrality and restoring to "machine-tactic deals."

The charge brought an immediate denial from Neil Staebler, Democratic state chairman, and Ernest Lacey, national committee-man.

The blowup came almost simultaneously with Republican Sen. Ferguson's formal announcement, and apparently strong GOP harmony, of his candidacy for a third term. He announced from Washington Friday.

Undersecretary Takes Over For Dulles At Geneva Conference

GENEVA (AP)—Walter Bedell Smith, U. S. undersecretary of state, arrived today to replace his chief, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, as U. S. delegate to the 19-nation Asian Conference next week.

Asked by reporters what he had to say, Smith replied: "Say my prayers, I suppose."

Congress In No Mood To Enter Indochina War

By EDWIN R. HAAKINSON
WASHINGTON (AP)—Three Democratic senators said today Congress is in no mood to approve involvement of U. S. fighting units in the Indochina war.

A Republican, Sen. Flanders (Vt.), agreed that the thought of direct American intervention is unpopular in Congress. But he said the United States and the United Nations may be forced to take direct action, if the Communists threaten to overrun Indochina.

Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) took note of President Eisenhower's news conference statement Thursday that this country will not get into a war except through the constitutional process, involving a declaration of war by Congress.

"If the President waits for Congress to give him the go-ahead on sending U. S. troops to Indochina," Johnson said, "he will wait for a long, long time. There is no sentiment in the Senate for intervention in Indochina."

Sen. Monroney (D-Okla.) said in a separate interview that "no case has been made as yet for the use of American troops" in Indochina and he added: "There is little likelihood that Congress would give such authority now."

Sen. Holland (D-Fla.) said he would have to know much more "about the immediacy of the situation (in Indochina) before I'd consent to sending our combat troops there."

In taking his somewhat different position Sen. Flanders said: "We can't pass off all our dangers and troubles to our children and grandchildren. We must face them."

Flanders is a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Earlier in the week, the House defeated 214-37 a proposal by Rep. Coudert (R-N.Y.) aimed at barring use of American combat forces in Indochina without prior congressional assent.

Retail Business In Michigan Off By Three Per Cent

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's retail business in March was off three per cent from a year ago, judging by the sales tax barometer.

Louis M. Nims, state revenue commissioner, said April collections on March business totaled $23,494,000, compared to $24,212,000 in the same month a year ago.

"The sales tax on auto sales was off $300,000 and on general business $400,000," Nims said. This represented a six per cent reduction on auto sales and a two per cent fall off in general business.

The state cigarette tax produced $2,088,000 in April, an increase of $150,000 over the same month a year ago.

Dulles Huddles With Molotov On Atomic Pool

By EDDY GILMORE

GENEVA (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State Dulles and Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov went into a private huddle today to carry on their talks on President Eisenhower's plan for an international atomic energy pool.

It was the second meeting between the two top East-West diplomats since they came here for last Monday's opening of the conference on Far Eastern questions.

The meeting today was held in strictest secrecy. Molotov had indicated early this week he was ready to deliver Russia's reply to super-secret "concrete" proposals made by the United States March 19.

Other Problems Covered?
These talks between the Americans and Russians have been going on behind the tightest cloak of secrecy since Eisenhower proposed an international pool of atomic energy raw materials and know-how for peaceful uses in his address to the U. N. General Assembly last Dec. 8.

There is nothing that would prevent Dulles and Molotov from going over other problems, including the currently bogged-down discussions on Korea and the projected talks on Indochina here at Geneva.

Dulles has a full weekend schedule before he leaves Monday to return to Washington. This includes a meeting with Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith, who is arriving today to head the U. S. mission at Geneva after Dulles departs.

Strategy Worked Out
On his way to Washington, Dulles first will stop off in Milan, Italy, to confer briefly with Prime Minister Mario Scelba on mutual U. S.-Italian problems.

Among other meetings scheduled was a conference of the 16 nations which fought in Korea under the United Nations banner. This group is working out its strategy for the remainder of the Korean discussions here.

The Allied group has appointed a subcommittee to draft a resolution outlining plans for free elections in Korea designed to unify the war-torn peninsula.

There still was no definite indication when the talks will get started on the 7-year-old war in Indochina between the French Union and the Communist-led Vietnam.

Heir To Millions, 21, Booked In $41 Holdup

TORONTO, Ont. (AP)—A Canadian heir to a 2¼ million dollar fortune faced charges today he aided in a $41 holdup.

Handsome, 21-year-old John Leonard Smallman was booked by police Friday and released on $1,000 bail.

Smallman denied the charges he was an accomplice in the beating and robbery last December of Lawrence T. Nash.

Two other men still are being sought.
Smallman gets $850 income monthly from his estate and his work as a jewelry salesman. He was soon to receive $150,000 a year interest on the fortune left to him by a great aunt seven years ago.

Whole Towns Crushed By Greek Earthquake; Death Toll Set At 20

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Greek officials reported today the earthquake which struck central Greece Friday and crumbled whole towns killed at least 20 persons and injured 130. More than 25,000 were made homeless.

Earlier official reports had the death toll as high as 150. Light tremors continued throughout the day after the violent initial shock lasting 20 seconds.

King Visits Ruins
King Paul and Crown Prince Constantine cut short an inspection of army units in Thrace to fly to Volos in the Gulf of Pegasus, where the earthquake destroyed the town hall and split open a section of the quay.

The quake disaster was the worst since the shocks that devastated the Greek Ionian islands last August, killing up to 1,000 persons and destroying the homes of 120,000.

Thousands of persons slept in open fields—some because they had no home to return to and others because they were afraid to go back to the towns they had fled.

The government sped supplies and medicine to the earthquake victims and dispatched troops to repair communication lines. A religious holiday which had closed down communication and government offices hindered the relief measures.

Sofades, a town of 4,000, was almost destroyed. One person was killed and several injured.

Farsala, about the same size, had 80 per cent of its houses down, leaving 5,500 persons shelterless. Reports on the dead and injured were not in. The town is a historic site, said to be the home of Achilles. It also was the battle ground of Pharsalus, where Julius Caesar defeated Pompey the Great in 48 B. C.

Karditsa, population about 28,000, had 75 per cent of its houses toppled.

Pleas For Peace Feature May-Day Holiday In Europe

LONDON (AP)—Europe celebrated May Day today in a holiday mood, with pleas for peace coming from both sides of the Iron Curtain.

The biggest demonstration was in Moscow's Red Square, where Soviet Defense Minister Marshal Nikolai Bulganin told a crowd: "In foreign policy it is the glorious task of our government not to permit a new war and to keep up normal relations between all countries."

Army Show In Moscow
In Western Europe, Communists and Socialists held separate rallies to observe the traditional international workers' holiday.

May Day passed practically unnoticed in Britain, but it was a full holiday in West Germany, Italy, Norway and several other countries.

The Moscow celebration had a military tinge, with the Soviet armed forces on parade. Moscow Radio's description of the show included the remark that "an enormous jet plane of a size never before seen flew overhead."

In the Far East, Communist China followed the pattern of her Soviet neighbor with a military review. Mao Tze-tung, the country's ailing dictator, appeared in the reviewing stand in the capital of Peiping, making one of his rare public appearances in recent months.

Parades In Tokyo
In British Hong Kong the day passed quietly.

In Tokyo, 400,000 Japanese demonstrators streamed through the streets of the city, some carrying placards calling for an end to American hydrogen bomb tests in the Pacific. Many shouted their opposition to Japanese rearmament.

Despite one brief clash with police in front of Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida's Liberal Party headquarters, there was little violence and none of the vicious attacks that marked the Communist-led anti-American May Day melee two years ago.

Divided Berlin had two May Day observances. West Berliners gathered at the front of the wrecked Reichstag building, on the edge of the Soviet sector, to hear addresses by Lord Mayor Dr. Walter Schreiber and Minister for All-German Affairs Jacob Kaiser.

In the Soviet sector of the city there was a great procession through Marx-Engels Square.

Noisy Rally In Rome
In Paris the day was chilly, overcast and unusually quiet. The only public meeting was a Communist rally in the Bois de Vincennes.

Italian workers attended hundreds of labor union meetings throughout the country. The biggest and noisiest was in Rome where the Communist-dominated Rome Chamber of Labor sponsored a gathering in the Piazza del Popolo (People's Square). The Christian Workers' Assn. met in St. Peter's Square.

Yugoslavia's May Day observance was a great military spectacle.

Bribery In Tokyo

TOKYO (AP)—The head of Japan's third largest shipping company, Kensei Matano, has been indicted in connection with the nation's mounting bribery scandals. Matano is one of the biggest figures swept up so far in the investigation of charges that shipping firms bribed high government officials to secure lush subsidies and favorable legislation.

Twisters Leave Scores Injured; Woman Killed

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Tornadoes and vicious winds lashing six states in the Southwest and Midwest left one person dead, at least 56 injured and caused damages estimated in the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Texas suffered the most damage—39 injured in 23 towns and communities. Other states hit Friday included Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana, Missouri and Iowa.

Mrs. Doot Sowell, 73-year-old Negro of Many, La., was the only fatality reported. Her body was found draped around a fence post. Six persons in the Sowell home were injured.

School Children Hurt
Eleven separate but small tornadoes struck in eastern Iowa.

One twister injured five members of a family near Cedar Rapids when it tossed them about 100 feet into a field. Their farm home was destroyed.

The same tornado swept through LaFayette, Iowa, wrecking cars, uprooting trees and stripping houses of their roofs.

Two were hurt in Arkansas, three at Versailles, Mo., and one in Oklahoma.

Eleven children were hurt in an east Texas twister that struck the Beulah schoolhouse, 12 miles southeast of Lufkin.

West of Lufkin, another tornado whirled past the Grapeland, Tex., school building, in which 600 children were attending classes. The school escaped damage, but destruction in downtown Grapeland was estimated at $25,000.

Snow In Minnesota

Houston, Fort Worth, Dallas, San Antonio—all felt the force of the spring storms that damaged a Negro housing project in west Dallas so extensively that 18 families had to be evacuated.

Rain and snow pelted several other sections of the Midwest and the Rockies as colder air pushed into the North Central region. A few showers and thundershowers continued in the West Gulf area but generally fair weather was reported in other parts of the country.

Snow fell in the northern and central Rockies, eastern Nebraska, parts of the Dakotas and northern Minnesota.

Four Gunmen Nabbed Because Mask Slipped

SALEM, Mass. (AP)—A gunman's loose mask during an attempted holdup led Friday to the arrest of four men on charges of attempted robbery.

Police said Mrs. Josephine Russell, a bookkeeper at Surret Battery Co., told them the mask of one of the gunmen slipped and she recognized the man as her brother-in-law.

As a result of her information, police arrested Gifford Russell, 20, of Marblehead, Harry Bennett, 19, his brother, Irwin, 20, and William G. White, all of Nahant, later were arrested.

Mrs. Russell said the holdup was foiled when other employees entered the office. A $2,000 payroll had been distributed a few hours earlier.

Plant Picketed:

Walkout Of Over 600 Idles Harnischfeger In Contract Dispute

Harnischfeger Corporation's operations in Escanaba continued halted today with the strike of more than 600 employees called by UAW-CIO Local 632 in a breakdown of contract negotiations.

The walkout occurred yesterday afternoon and entrances of Harnischfeger's truck crane and welding plants were being picketed today by the Union.

Herman Menck, Milwaukee, Harnischfeger vice president in charge of manufacturing, in a statement charged the Union with "bad faith" and "unfair labor practice." The plants will be kept open to all those who wish to return to work, he announced.

Union spokesmen said they knew of no employees who had returned to work today.

Menck's Statement

The walkout occurred about 2:15 p. m. yesterday and followed a reported company refusal to agree to a contract that did, not include a five-day temporary layoff cause, according to Union spokesmen.

Menck yesterday afternoon issued the following public statement:

"The Union accepted the Company's proposal on renewal of the contract on Friday, March 26, by membership ballot and so informed the Company. Immediately thereafter the Union and the Company reduced the agreement into writing and the Union left the Company under the impression that the signing of the documents were a mere formality.

"Since that time further concessions were made by management with respect to seniority on temporary layoffs. Now the Union wishes to change the agreement materially, to which the Company cannot agree.

Charge "Bad Faith"

"We feel the Union is acting in bad faith and is committing an unfair labor practice and we will therefore keep the plants open for all those who wish to work."

In contract negotiations the Union is represented by its bargaining committee, composed of John Froberg, Nels Apelgren, Gene Christman and Al Willette. Maurice Harrison is president of Local 632.

Robert Loose, manager, and Howard Fontaine, personnel manager, were representing Harnischfeger Corporation management in the negotiations, which broke off yesterday afternoon with the walkout.

No Lay-Off Clause

No further negotiations are scheduled at this time.

There has been no agreement between Harnischfeger and the Union since March 15, when a six-month contract expired. The former contract had no provisions for temporary layoffs, said a Union spokesman.

In negotiations toward a new agreement there was "give and take" on both sides, but the Union spokesman said no temporary layoff paragraph was ever agreed to.

It was previously announced on March 27 that an agreement had been reached on a new contract to run from March 15, 1954, to April 15, 1955. The contract was reportedly approved by the Union on March 26 by a vote of 332 to 95.

In Milwaukee Contract

The new contract, which did not become effective, did not provide for general wage increases but workers who formerly were not included in an incentive wage plan were to be offered such a plan in the new contract. A compromise agreement on the issue of plant seniority was also reached, it was reported.

The proposed new contract was reported to offer hospitalization benefits, and included a provision its paragraph was brought to the Union membership at a meeting held on Thursday, April 29 and was turned down by the membership of Local 632. The request of the membership at that time was to keep their seniority rights as in past agreements. The Union membership request was again brought to the Company.

The executive board of the union also issued the following statement in reply to the statement of Mr. Menck, vice president of Harnischfeger:

"With all due consideration to Mr. Menck's power of retaining information, we find a major portion of his statement to be full of inaccuracies. Number one: The Union at their special meeting of March 26, ruled to accept the results of bargaining, as far as they had gone. There was a vague mention made of some clauses on temporary lay-offs, which the Company wanted to add to the contract. But until the Union had the final wording of that clause, it was also ruled to hold up acceptance of that part of the contract, until we knew what we were getting. But, when this clause was written up by the Company, it was found to be unacceptable by the membership of Local 632, so they in turn ruled to delete that paragraph from the proposed contract, and revert to the seniority clause of the last contract. This management refused to do, thus forcing the Union to take strike action. The Union feels we must take this action to protect the seniority, which they had worked years to build up."

Tax Allocation Board To Meet

The Delta County Tax Allocation Committee will meet at the court house this evening for a session at which allocation of funds for county schools will be the chief item of business.

Representatives of the county road commission will also be present to press for an allocation of additional funds for repairs on county highway bridges.

On the board are Helmer J. Skogquist, chairman; Ann Villeneuve, Hazel Quarnstrom, H. J. Henderson, Jacob Bink and C. Gust Peterson.

Last year the 15 mill assessment was equally divided between the schools and the county.

Ole Harstad, Benefactor, Businessman, Dies At 82

Ole Harstad, Bark River business- man and widely known benefactor for whom Rotary Camp Harstad for crippled children was named, died at 10 p. m. Friday in Lutheran Hospital, Eau Claire, Wis., where he had been receiving treatment for a stroke suffered last August. He was 82 years old.

A resident of Bark River and Eau Claire for 60 years, Mr. Harstad became ill after he returned Aug. 10 last year from a visit to his native Norway, where he was born Oct. 23, 1871, at Slatanger.

Best known in this community for his gift of a site on the Ford River bay shore for a camp for crippled and handicapped children, Mr. Harstad also gave many gifts to assist in the development of Bark River, and was recognized for his generosity to charities.

Widow Survives
He was an honorary member of the Escanaba Rotary Club, was affiliated with Salem Lutheran Church at Bark River, and was an officer of several companies in which he was interested.

Surviving are his widow, the former Emma Rood of Bark River, one brother and two sisters. Mr. and Mrs. Harstad were married June 30, 1903, and last year observed their 50th wedding anniversary.

The surviving brother is John H. Harstad of Superior, Wis., and the sisters are Mrs. Olga Anne of Chicago and Mrs. Inga Strom of Nomsos, Norway.

Arrangements for the funeral had not been completed today.

Start At Bark River

Born in Norway, Mr. Harstad came to the United States in 1889 at the age of 17. In his early years he worked in mines, in Western wheat fields and in the lumber woods as a river driver.

In the mines he learned to speak Italian and among the workers in the wheat fields of Montana and North Dakota, the young Norwegian learned English.

He came to Delta County in the 1890's. He set up a lumber camp south of Narenta and began logging cut timber in his first business venture. In addition he worked in the lumber woods and drove logs on the Bark River.

In 1898, the year of the last log drive on the Bark River, Harstad took over operation of a store and invested his savings in the business. Within a couple years the young man was well known in the Bark River community and began to prosper.

Business Career

Besides his interest in the store he became part owner of a flour mill and was elected clerk of the township, in which position he served for six years.

It was in 1905 that Harstad acquired a one-third interest in the Bark River Bridge & Culvert Company, now the Bark River Culvert & Equipment Company. He was associated with E. J. Bergman in the business. Through the years the business expanded and today there are factories located in Eau Claire, Green Bay and Milwaukee as well as Bark River.

Mr. Harstad held a controlling interest in the St. Paul Corrugating Company, St. Paul, Minn. Other companies which he organized and in which he was interested at the time of his death included the Eau Claire Citizens Loan and Investment Company; American National Bank & Trust Company of Eau Claire.

Manager Submits City Operating And Utility Budget Of $1,666,731

Escanaba City Council next week Tuesday will begin review of a 1954-55 city budget totaling $1,666,731 proposed by City Manager A. V. Aronson and accepted by the Council in recent special meeting.

The proposed budget was prepared by the city manager with the assistance of department heads.

The Council will meet at 7 p. m., Tuesday and Wednesday in City Hall, Thursday following the Council session, and on Saturday if necessary in reviewing the budget. All budget review sessions are open to the public.

Public hearing and adoption of the budget is scheduled for May 20.

Budget Is Higher

Salary increases and other rising costs shown in the proposed budget have boosted the total for city operations to above the current fiscal year, which will end March 30.

The proposed general city budget for operations is $847,538.92 for 1954-55, compared to $818,528.73 for the adopted budget last year.

Including the utilities, the total city budget for the coming fiscal year is $1,666,731 compared to last year's total of $1,591,387.

There are some reductions for some purposes in the proposed budget from last year, and a number of increases.

Salary Costs Increase

The city manager is recommending a general 2 per cent increase in salaries for the coming fiscal year.

Other cost increases include approximately $12,000 for the police department, to add one officer and to pay one and one-half time for Sunday work and call-back pay. The fire department budget is $4,000 higher.

Carnegie Library budget will increase by about $3,000, largely for salary increases; the sanitary sewer

South Shore RR Seeks To Reduce U. P. Rail Service

MARQUETTE—Despite reports to the contrary, "no agreement has been reached yet" between the Public Service Commission and the Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic Railway in connection with the railroad's application to reduce Upper Peninsula passenger service, according to Maurice Hunt, commissioner from Sault Ste. Marie.

The railroad has asked permission to discontinue passenger service between Marquette and St. Ignace and between Marquette and the Wisconsin line. The South Shore has argued that the service is not paying for itself.

Stamp Collectors See Swiss Movie Sunday

A movie dealing with the production of Swiss stamps by the photogravure process will be shown at the May meeting of the Escanaba Philatelic Society at 7:30 Sunday evening in the city hall. The meeting time has been changed from afternoon to evening to make showing of the movie practical.

The films, produced by the Swiss government, are made available through the membership of the local club in the National Federation of Stamp Clubs. They show, in detail, how the Swiss stamps which are known as among the most beautiful being issued by any government are produced.

The local stamp club is inviting all stamp collectors and others interested to attend the meeting and view the movies.

HEALTH CHATS

NATIONAL CORRECT POSTURE WEEK ★ MAY 1 TO MAY 7

... a week devoted to reminding all Americans that long life and sound health demand correct posture

America's chiropractors should be congratulated for their pioneer work in bringing this health matter to the attention of all of us. Since they are particularly and acutely aware of the damage done to the human body by bad posture habits, they have long preached to the American people that millions of dollars in expenditures for health could be saved by better posture — better posture taught to children in their formative years, and better posture practiced by adults.

Statement Prepared by Dr. Emmett J. Murphy

No greater contribution can be made by the chiropractors of America to the Nation than by improving posture and thus increasing the efficiency of all our workers. Poor posture is expensive, and poor posture habits are responsible, not only for many days of lost time, but for poor response to job needs, and eventually for a shortened life of top efficiency.

The problem of poor posture and the low efficiency of workers which it brings on can be approached in two ways. The first is a long, careful, and well-planned program to teach Americans how to walk and stand and sit in ways which will promote health and efficiency. We have such an educational program under way, and it is having its effect.

However, that takes time. Meanwhile, many postural faults can be helped by direct treatment, or the bad effects can be modified or eliminated. Chiropractors Play Decisive Role

In both programs individual chiropractors can play a decisive and important role.

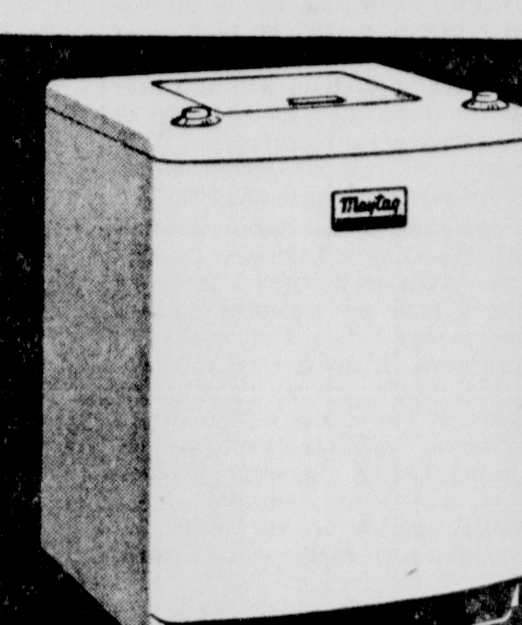

They can continue to carry out the program of education. They can explain to their patients how to walk, stand, sit, and lie for the best effect on health. They can give their patients the publications of the National Chiropractic Association on the subject and win their co-operation.

They can also continue to relieve the bad results of poor posture by correcting the misalignments of the spine.

Out Of Town Peddler Makes No Contribution To Community

THIS is the beginning of the season of the year when out of town magazine solicitors and other out of town salesmen and peddlers move into Escanaba and surrounding communities to peddle their wares in house to house solicitations.

It is a proper time, we think, to point out that the commodities these people sell can be purchased locally from responsible local merchants at the same price or lower than the out of town solicitors charge.

There is, however, an important difference—important from the standpoint of the customer. The local merchant is always available to make any adjustments if any are required. That is not true with the out of town solicitor who moves into the town, works it over quickly and then leaves. If the commodity you purchase—whether it be magazines, household trinkets or clothing—does not meet your expectations or your requirements, you're stuck.

Magazine subscriptions is a particularly favorite sales commodity for the out of town solicitors. And yet these same magazines can be purchased locally from news dealers, drug stores, etc., or from high school students or newspaper carriers, at prices as low or lower than the out of town solicitor charges.

The local merchant not only is always available to make any adjustment in your best interests, but he also is the guy who pays local taxes, helps to support local government, church affairs, civic promotions, etc. The out of town solicitor contributes nothing to these important local needs.

There are few, if any, commodities that the out of town solicitors have available for sale that you cannot purchase locally from one of more of the local stores and service establishments.

Manistique Honors J. Joseph Herbert

IT is customary for a community to pay tribute to citizens who have made a substantial contribution to community life but unfortunately these tributes generally come after the public spirited citizens have passed on.

It was particularly heartwarming to attend the community recognition dinner in honor of J. J. Herbert at Manistique the other night. And it was especially so because Mr. Herbert was there in person, with his friends and neighbors, to receive the felicitations, the plaudits, and most important, the appreciation of his home town for services rendered.

The services that Mr. Herbert contributed to his community over a long period of years were considerable and they properly deserved the recognition accorded him. The public recognition by his fellow townsmen, however, was not only because of community service but also and more so because of the services that Mr. Herbert provided on a statewide basis. It included, for instance, recognition for his work with the Michigan Department of the American Legion, where he served as state commander, for his work with the Michigan Medical Society over a period of many years, with his work as regent of the University of Michigan and for many other activities, civic, social and political, throughout the state of Michigan.

There is nothing that we can add to the words of appreciation and to the recognition scroll presented to Mr. Herbert by his hometown friends and neighbors. But we can say—and we do so happily—that the gesture of friendship and public recognition that the people of Manistique provided to Mr. Herbert was as inspiring as it was deserved.

COUNTY ROAD PROGRAM (Menominee Herald-Leader)

The 14 townships, three villages and City of Menominee in Menominee County have planned another year of collaboration with the Menominee County Highway Department in a continuing County highway system development program. This program aims to blacktop all heavily traveled County roads. With about 500 miles in the 1,200-mile County road system rated worthy of blacktop pavement, the County has blacktopped more than 300 in the co-operative program started in 1946, and this year another 36 miles will be blacktopped. This year's program will also provide heavy reconstruction on 20 miles of road in preparation for blacktopping. This year's program will cost $538,000, of which the townships will contribute $88,000.

The co-operation of the local governments with the County Highway Department in this program has given Menominee County a highway system which is outstanding in the Upper Peninsula. The program reduces highway maintenance costs, provides better highways that reduce vehicle wear, enhances the values of the properties served and generally advances progress in the County. The program makes possible the year-around operation of a County gravel plant with the efficiency and savings that such continuous operation permit.

also based on the King James Version, goes far beyond all former concordances which have depended entirely upon the location of key words.

In this enormous work, Dr. Joy has arranged 25,000 texts under 2150 topics, the effect of which is to give practically every Biblical text dealing with any particular subject, regardless of whether the name or a key word, appears in the text.

Also, to make sure that the subject is fully covered, almost every topic has attached to it a cross reference. I am appalled at the amount of labor which went into this work, but I am equally amazed at its quality.

The work is so completely objective, and free from any theological bias, that it may be used with confidence by those of all faiths. Dr. Joy cites, scrupulously without comment, only what the Bible says.

The other book, so recent that a second volume is yet to appear is more definitely a work of interpretation. It is GREAT IDEAS of the Bible, by Mrs. Ryllis Alexander Goslin Lynip.

The brilliance of its literary style is matched only by the clarity and penetration with which the author develops the great Bible teachings.

I may have more to say about this book when the second volume appears.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Senator McCarthy has complained during the Cohn-Schine hearings, that I was responsible for putting the bee on G. David Schine's draft status and causing him to be grabbed by the Army.

Now I would hate to think that draft boards sat around waiting for newspapermen to finger someone who was unfairly deferred and only then drafted them, as Senator McCarthy infers. However, I admit it was simultaneous with a Merry-Go-Round column of July 17 that McCarthy began frantically trying to get a commission for Schine from the Army.

On looking through various notes on Private Schine in preparation for a recent TV program, however, I find that for space reasons I had to omit some interesting facts on G. David from the July 17 column. And since Joe McCarthy is already complaining, he might just as well have the whole works.

About a year ago Mr. Schine was queried by telephone regarding some of the highlights of his life. He acknowledged modestly that he was only trying to serve his country on the McCarthy committee, said he was seeking no publicity, but hastily began recounting the record of his life.

SCHINE'S RECORD

He had interrupted his Harvard education, he said, to serve in the Army Transport Service in 1946-47.

"Were you in the Army?" he was asked.

"We carried Army supplies."

"Were you a merchant seaman or an Army enlisted man?"

"No, I wasn't a merchant seaman."

"Were you in the Army?"

"I had an assimilated rank," he explained.

"What was your rank?"

"Army lieutenant."

"What kind of work did you do?"

"Customs, immigration, payroll, personnel," he explained.

"Technically, you belonged to the Merchant Marine, didn't you?"

"I imagine so. I really haven't thought about it. I wish you wouldn't make this one of those personal stories. What is the value of writing about me? Roy Cohn would make a much better story."

Schine hurried on to tell how he went back to Harvard, was graduated in 1949, then ran radio station WPTX in Albany.

HOTEL-THEATER MOGUL

"Is this owned by your father?"

"I wouldn't say the company is owned by us. We are only stockholders," he explained.

However, young Schine didn't stay in the radio business long. At the age of 24 he became vice president and general manager of the Schine Hotels, which include the Ambassador in Los Angeles, the Roney Plaza, Boca Raton, Gulfstream and McAlister in Florida; the Ritz-Carlton in Atlantic City; the Ten Eyck in Albany; and the Northampton Inn & Old Wiggins Tavern in Massachusetts. His father, he admitted was chairman of the board.

This is the hotel chain that got involved in the Kefauver crime investigation when Meyer Schine, father of David, admitted he received $45,000 from Frank Erickson for a three-months gambling concession at the Roney Plaza hotel in Miami. He was also paid by Erickson for the right to make book at the Boca Raton.

In August 1950, G. David, still only 24, also branched out in the theater business and became executive vice president of the Schine Theaters, largest independent theatrical chain in the nation. Incidentally, Meyer Schine and his chain have recently been indicted criminally by the Justice Department for willfully violating an anti-trust order to which they had agreed.

MY FRIEND ROY

Earlier, in 1949, young Schine said he had become interested in government service when he devised a psychological warfare plan and wrote a definition of Communism.

"One of the reasons I am on the McCarthy committee," he said modestly, "is because I am supposed to know something about this stuff."

Asked how he got the job, he said: "I got on through friends."

Roy Cohn, he acknowledged, was one of the friends. He also acknowledged that he had vacationed with Cohn in Europe the previous summer.

"Did you pay his way?" he was asked.

"Why do you ask a question like that?" G. David wanted to know.

A newspaper reporter, he was told, has to ask disagreeable questions as well as agreeable ones.

"I can't see why you are interested in knowing whether I paid his way or not," Schine insisted. "I have taken several trips to Europe."

"We are interested in this trip because it was your relationship to Cohn that helped get you on this committee," Schine was told.

"I paid for mine and he paid for his. That is the way it would automatically be," Schine finally replied.

"Were you ever called for an Army physical?"

"I don't think so," he answered vaguely, his voice trailing off like a witness before the McCarthy committee.

"But the fact is that you were called for a physical at Governor's Island and you were classified 1-A," Schine was reminded.

"I might have been," he hedged.

"What do you mean, might have been? Don't you know whether you were called for a physical?"

"I have taken several physicals, both on the West Coast and the East Coast," he replied lamely. "You do ask the damndest questions."

Those are just part of the facts on G. David Schine, which Senator McCarthy seems to think should not be published.

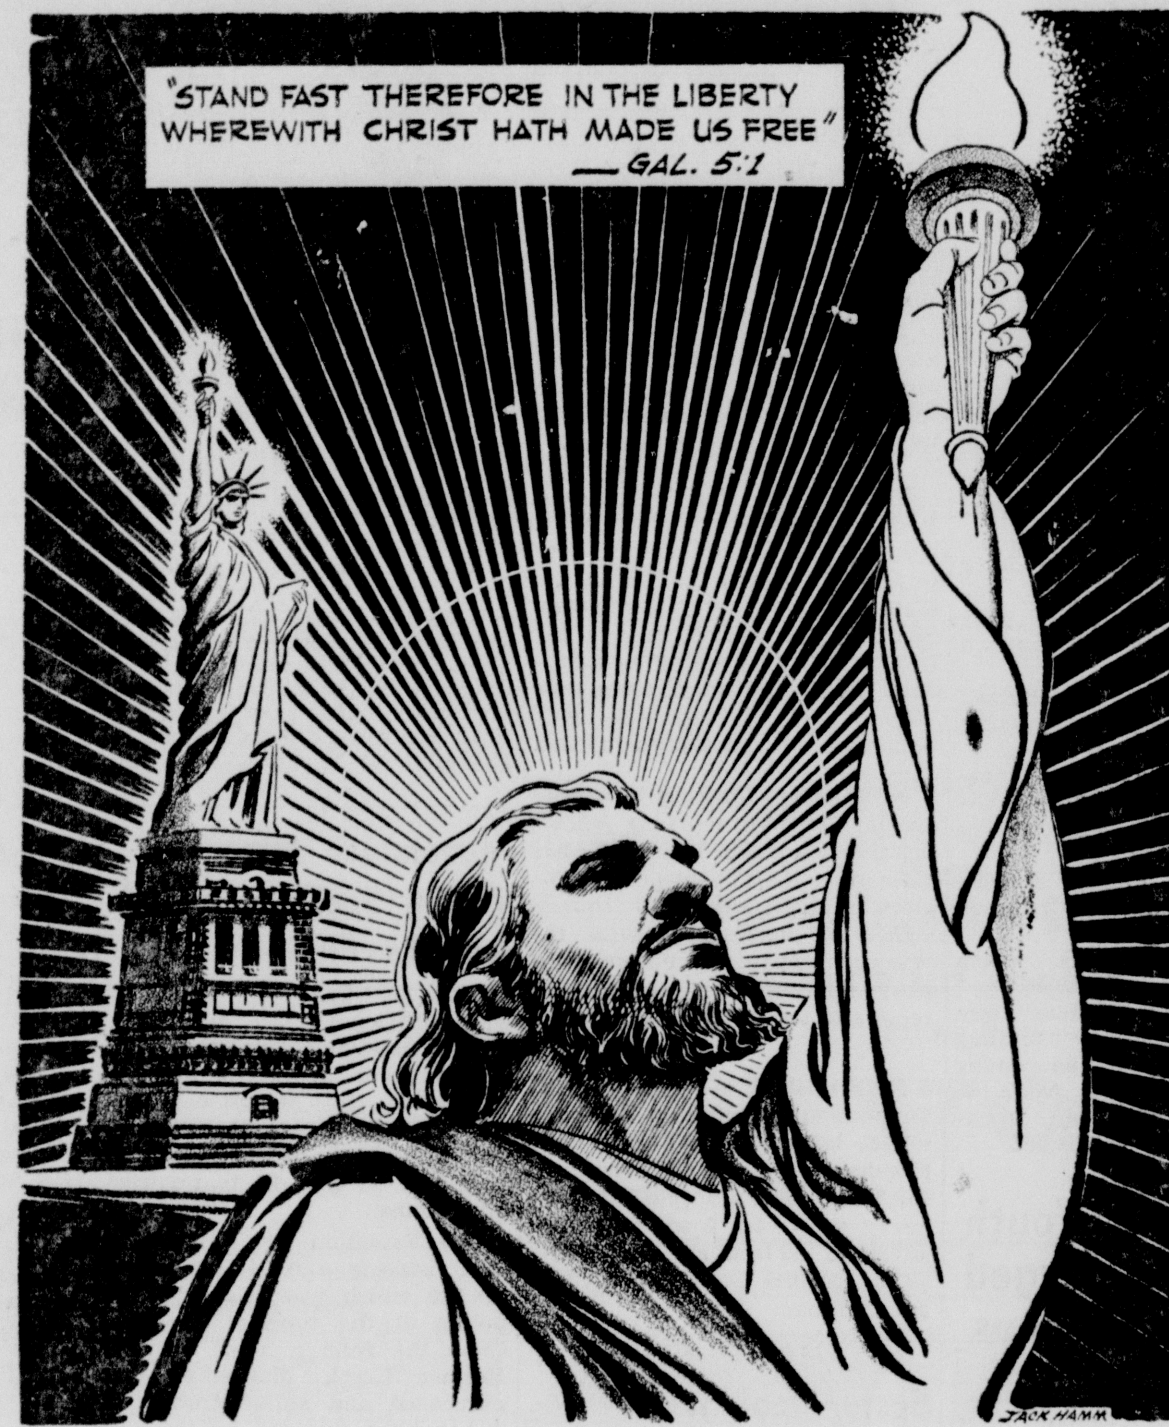

We always think of a prune as just a worried plum.

Fuzzy Glops Of Melody Cheat Your Ears, Sound Expert Says

By WARD CANNEL

NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (NEA)—Hazard Reeves unfolded a big, white napkin and delivered his considered opinion:

"The American ear is only now getting out of diapers."

Reeves, who mixes a mean metaphor, was speaking from his lofty authority as one of the world's few experts in the business of sound and listening.

He amplified his thoughts: "People are being cheated with every nickel they put into a juke box; with each ticket they buy at the neighborhood movie house; with each record they put on their living room phonograph."

The reason? Most of today's audio equipment simply isn't up to reproducing sound accurately, he said, and the manufacturers know it.

To make listening easier, Reeves said, most sound sets are built with a treble-bass control knob that cuts out high frequency cade of the "talking machine." American ears were thoroughly accustomed to mis-hearing because recorded sound was an accepted fact.

The juke-box and the talking picture, according to Reeves, didn't help the matter. The quality of recording was kept down because audio engineers knew that sound equipment would not reproduce accurately.

In the end, Reeves said, it was the listener who suffered the greatest penalty. He fell out of touch with reality, and in great measure he's still out of earshot of true sound, although high fidelity fans are a growing force.

Widely accepted as the best audio system thus far is Reeves' own stereophonic sound. It's in use in the 20 nationwide theaters that show Cinerama, but its developer claims it's only 25 per cent of what it could be.

Basically, stereophonic sound is a multiple recording job; seven microphones all swallowing faithfully everything from a pin-drop to a drum-roll. The sound is dropped back in the same way—from multiple speakers.

If the majority of sound occurred at the left in recording, the left speakers play it back. And the right speakers play only the portion they pick up. If the noise moves across the room, stereophonic sound traces it.

In addition, this system reproduces low frequency, middle and high frequency sounds without a grumble.

"But it's not a finished product yet," Reeves said. "When it's technically perfect, it will bring audiences back to the movies; it will bring people to the dance floor who never danced before; and it will bring vocalists with good, strong voices out of the shadows."

Where There's Smoke, They'll Plant Cigars

By WARD CANNEL

NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (NEA) — Among the best-kept secrets in America—and probably the whole world—is the changing role of the cigar. But it's all right if the vitality of this issue has escaped you.

A spot check of vital-issues centers and other street corners here reveals a thunderous calm on the whole matter.

The people who should be worried by this news are the members of the Cigar Institute of America—a non-philanthropic organization that yearly spends $400,000 to keep cigar smoke in the public eye.

It's no accident, for example, that George Burns smokes a cigar throughout his TV show. The CIA has reached him with a box of cheroots per week.

It's no mischance that heretypic Montgomery Clift smokes a cigar and gets the girl, too. The CIA has blazed a trail that is still smoking in Hollywood.

"Generally," said Institute president Walter K. Lyon, "men will bend at a box of cigars where they'd see red at a money gift."

For the most part, his organization stands like the traditional cigar store Indian — with hatchet raised, ready to pounce on unkind remarks. And most of their work has been done with counter-blow.

Unlike sister outfits who spread unsolicited kindness about their products, the CIA waits until a cigar-nasty situation is published, photographed or televised. Then they rush to plead for mercy.

Hundreds of scrip writers, TV and movie prop men cartoonists, authors, editors and entertainers have known the gentle urgings and proffered panatellas of these cigar spokesmen.

For the nation is still unenlightened. Heroes continue to conquer only with pipe in mouth. Detectives are still squinting through their curling cigarette smoke. And in many quarters the cigar is reserved only for tycoon, shyster, hoodlum, boss, racketeer and phony types.

But if it happened to be your script, cartoon or movie, you'd get a letter in the morning mail, signed by the CIA and reassuring you that you really hadn't meant a word of it.

After all, you'd be told, the cigar industry means bread and butter to 42,000 men, women and independent tobacco auctioneers. You wouldn't want to leave them homeless, would you? And what about all those nice guys — your own uncle, maybe — who smoke cigars?

Support for this habit-forming program comes from an award-winning, nationally syndicated political cartoonist: "I once got a letter from them because I put a cigar in the mouth of a political boss. I can see their point of view and I haven't done it since."

But form the cartoon editor of a top circulation magazine, the smokes signals tell a different story.

"We ran a cartoon that they didn't like," he said. "So they sent me a nice letter and a box of the louisiest cigars I've ever smoked."

Good Evening...

By CLINT DUNATHAN

LET THE BAND PLAY—Jack Eden, Escanaba businessman, after reading the Good Evening column of April 23, agrees with Mrs. Alice Antilla of Ishpeming that Escanaba should somehow send its Municipal Band to Ishpeming in July to assist that community in celebrating its 100th anniversary.

Eden writes:

"It hardly seems possible that the amount involved is substantial enough to cause any undue hardship on the city and certainly the advertising value of our fine band would more than offset any such expense.

"With all the major expenses our community has been confronted with in the last few years—water filtration plant, new schools, and possibly an electric generating plant, and so forth—it is quite understandable that the Council would be extremely sensitive to a request for anything that adds to the cost of city government.

"At the same time, we cannot afford to get ourselves the reputation of being penurious and unwilling to cooperate with our neighbors. Our city band is a good one. It is a credit to Escanaba and could be one of our best advertisements. In my opinion we should be proud to have it appear in the Ishpeming celebration and welcome the opportunity for it to do so.

"Coming when it does, the Upper Peninsula will be host to large numbers of tourists from all over the country, many of whom will be attracted to Ishpeming at that time. It is the sort of thing that many people would not give a second thought to, ordinarily, but while on vacation their reactions are different and they are attracted by crowds.

"What better occasion could we find to advertise our city to large numbers of people and at the same time display one of our own attractions in which we all take pride? The band's appearance in the Karas Memorial Concert next week will give anybody who has not heard them recently an opportunity to find out just how good they really are.

"If the financial lead to send the band to Ishpeming is too great for the city coffers to bear, why not enlist the aid of the Chamber of Commerce and other civic organizations in helping defray the cost? I feel quite sure that the great majority of those who listen to the concerts in the parks would be more than willing to forego just one of them in order to assist in sending our band to Ishpeming.

"There are other considerations involved also, one of which Mrs. Antilla touched on in her letter, which space will not permit me to go into, but to which it would be well for our Escanaba civic leaders to begin to give some serious consideration.

"The next five years are going to be years of tremendous importance to every community in the Upper Peninsula and the ones that are alive to these developments are the ones that are going to reap the benefits. We should be planning now to recapture the position Escanaba once held as the leading retail and business center in the Peninsula.

"I'm sure Ishpeming will appreciate our good wishes as expressed by Dunathan in the last sentence of his column, but it will take more than good wishes to stage a successful celebration—as we will find out ourselves in about 10 years or so when we begin to plan our centennial."

RECONSIDERATION — So ends Jack Eden's letter. But to refresh the memory of our readers we will go back to Mrs. Antilla's letter, which she concludes by saying: "We sure hope Escanaba will reconsider. I for one would be tempted to pass the hat to get them up here."

Jack Edens communication opens the door to additional discussion of the subject and also to the possibility that—if enough citizens express themselves favorably—Escanaba can reconsider and send its band to Ishpeming as Mrs. Antilla suggests.

Eden's viewpoint is sound. Escanaba can no more ignore a centennial celebration in Ishpeming to which it has been invited to be represented than could other communities ignore Escanaba when it plans its golden anniversary in 1963.

In the event the city feels unable to finance the band's trip to Ishpeming, the Chamber of Commerce could consider bringing to its board of directors the question of "passing the hat," as suggested by Mrs. Antilla and Eden.

It's a funny thing, says Willie Oakes, how some women are able to read restaurant menus in French just as well as English, but never seem to understand the difference between the high and low-priced items in any language.

Miss Laviolette And Lt. Markham In Bridal Rites

Father Colman Higdon, O. F. M., solemnized the double ring service at St. Joseph's Church in Escanaba at 10 a. m. today at which Miss Delores Mae Laviolette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Laviolette Sr., of 401 S. 11th St., became the bride of Second Lieutenant Harrie Brown Markham Jr., of the United States Air Force. The bridegroom's parents are the senior Harrie Brown Markhams of Gladstone.

The bride's gown was styled with a net over satin skirt with a Chantilly lace apron-effect overskirt edged in accordion pleated ruffles. The strapless bodice of Chantilly lace was complemented with a lace jacket, designed with long tapered sleeves and a Peter Pan collar. Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion was caught to a crown of lace and seed pearls. She carried an orchid on a white lace prayer book.

Honor Attendant In Orchid
A gown of orchid shade was worn by the maid of honor, Miss Mary Noyes of Milwaukee. The bodice was formed of accordion pleats with a lace midriff and the skirt was of net over taffeta. A small picture hat completed her attire. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow snapdragons and roses.

Grant Markham of Gladstone served as best man for his brother. Ushers were Marcel Guindon and Paul Laviolette, brother-in-law and brother of the bride.

Mrs. Laviolette wore a two piece mauve suit with wheat and white accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations for her daughter's wedding. A black suit with pink accessories and a corsage of pink carnations was Mrs. Markham's ensemble.

Mixed flowers in two tall standards were at either side of the entrance to the sanctuary for the service. Traditional bridal music was played during the ceremony and immediately following it as the bride placed a bouquet on the altar of the Blessed Virgin.

Dinner And Reception
The wedding dinner for 30 guests was served at the Log Cabin with bouquets of snapdragons decorating the table. The reception is being held there from 3 to 5 p. m. Miss Dorothy Winkler and Miss Catherine Loeffler are pouring at the reception. Miss Pat Garrett is presiding at the punch bowl and Mrs. Francis Provencer is serving the wedding cake.

Going Away Ensemble
The newlyweds have not disclosed their honeymoon destination. For traveling the bride has chosen a two piece chartruese suit dress with navy and white accessories.

Lt. Markham will return to his base and the bride will remain here temporarily at the home of her parents.

The bride is a graduate of St. Joseph's High School, class of 1951. Lt. Markham was graduated from Escanaba High School in 1949.

Here to attend the wedding were Mrs. Anthony R. Giglia and daughter Mary Lynn of Park Hills, Ky., Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Laviolette, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Papejuse, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Laviolette, Oconto, and Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Bruce of Shorewood, Wis.

Freak Weather Visits Area

Escanaba residents enjoyed for a short time—about an hour—a balmy temperature of 63, the warmest recorded here this year. The warm spell came shortly before 8 and chilled almost as suddenly as it came when the breeze veered a few degrees toward the east.

Subsiding to 54 it is likely to remain about that the rest of the day, says S. E. Decker of the local weather bureau. It will cloud up this afternoon with a possibility of light rain during the night. Tomorrow will be overcast and cooler.

Strange quirks in the weather are noted all over the weather bureau's map. While Escanaba had the warmest few minutes of the year this morning, Park Falls—about 150 miles west of here—had a low dangerously close to freezing and .78 of an inch precipitation. Houghton had .5 of an inch of rain, Duluth 2.30 inches and LaCrosse, Wis. 3.78 inches. More than 2 inches of rain fell in many southwestern parts of Wisconsin this morning.

Heavy falls of snow—4 inches and more—are reported generally throughout Montana and Wyoming and cattlemen are being warned of more rough weather to come.

The heaviest rainfall in the country today occurred this morning at Jackson, Miss. Four inches fell in less than six hours.

Electric Vaporizer Burns Baby To Death

WYANDOTTE (AP)—Seven-months-old Marc Edward Cole burned to death Thursday when fire flashed through his parents' Huron township home.

His grandmother Mrs. Phoebe Shales, said she had plugged in an electric vaporizer for the baby who was suffering from a cold. She went outside to look after another grandson, Murton, 3, and noticed smoke billowing from the roof. She was unable to re-enter the house.

Mrs. Shales was caring for the youngsters while the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cole, went to pick up Cole's unemployment check. He has been laid off from his factory job since February.

Burlington, Wis. Enjoys May-Day

BURLINGTON, Wis. (AP)—This southern Wisconsin city—normal population 4,700—today welcomed thousands of visitors for a close look at an American-style May Day.

The theme for the day-long program on "May Day-U. S. Way" was Americanism—reminding citizens of "their greatest asset—citizenship in this great country." And the theme behind that theme was retorting to communism which traditionally is glorified on every first day of May.

Officials of "May Day-U. S. Way" expected Burlington to be jammed with 25,000 people, which would be the largest crowd in this city's history.

Heading the list of visitors was the full slate of Wisconsin's 12 elected spokesmen in Washington. Republican Senators Wiley and McCarthy filled main speaking roles. "May Day-U. S. Way," sponsored by the American Legion, opened with church services in the morning. A parade consisting of some 70 floats depicting the bill of rights followed.

Following his speech, McCarthy will fly to Oshkosh to attend a state meeting of Young Republicans.

Weeping Gunwoman Fails In Holdup

DENVER (AP)—Frightened and waving a gun nervously, a woman robber asked her intended victim, Mrs. Evelyn Gracey, 30, to hand over the cash register contents in a small grocery Thursday night. "If I give you the money, I'd have to close the store," Mrs. Gracey told her. "I don't own the place."

"But I need at least $5," the holdup woman persisted. Mrs. Gracey offered a $5 bill. "That won't be enough," the gun woman sobbed. She turned and fled from the store with tears streaming down her face.

Drunk Driving Charge Follows Car Accident

MANISTIQUE—State Police charged a 16-year-old Manistique youth with drunk driving following an accident at 11 p. m. Friday on old U.S.-2 at the tannery location.

The car was owned by Robert Rice of Gulliver and had been taken to a dance at the armory in Manistique by his son Patrick. Rice left the keys in the car and the other youth took it.

The driver sustained a laceration of the hand and a bruised hip when the car went out of control on a small curve, skidded 270 feet and crashed into a light pole which was broken off. After the crash he ran across the field to his home and was apprehended there by city police.

Damage to the car is estimated at $250.

Bus Drivers Quit In Indianapolis

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Indianapolis, a city of 500,000 population, was without bus and trolley service today as AFL drivers struck in a dispute over wages. But a walkout by AFL transit workers in Pittsburgh was called off after 90 minutes.

Other strikes started today idled electrical workers, bakery employees and CIO steelworkers.

The largest involved some 9,500 employees of seven Philco Corp. plants, six in the Philadelphia area and one in Sandusky, Ohio, who are seeking higher wages.

About 1,500 AFL workers in 13 New York City bakeries also struck today and union officials said the strike would be called at midnight tonight in several upstate cities. They estimated 4,700 workers would be involved in the walkouts.

In the greater Cincinnati area strikes hit three industrial plants and threatened to spread to a fourth as about 1,200 CIO United

Make That Spring House-Cleaning Easier For 1954

By VIVIAN BROWN

DO YOU USE the squirrel method of house cleaning? Or can you bear to part with old, faded garments and outdated magazines?

If you want to have a successful spring cleaning session you'll need to make up your mind to (1) discard, (2) tag curtains, draperies, rugs, bedspreads for cleaning, (3) sort all washables for the laundry before you think about beginning cleaning chores.

Next—make a list of tasks. Big chores should be turned over to the man of the house and a few easy assignments to the youngsters. Assemble cleaning equipment and products before you begin. Worn out equipment makes the job harder and brooms, mops and the like are inexpensive enough to make replacement a good investment.

The room by room cleaning method is best and one or two rooms a day will help you do a more thorough job, than if you try to tackle all rooms at once. Here are some cleaning essentials that will do double-duty, keeping your cleaning basket light:

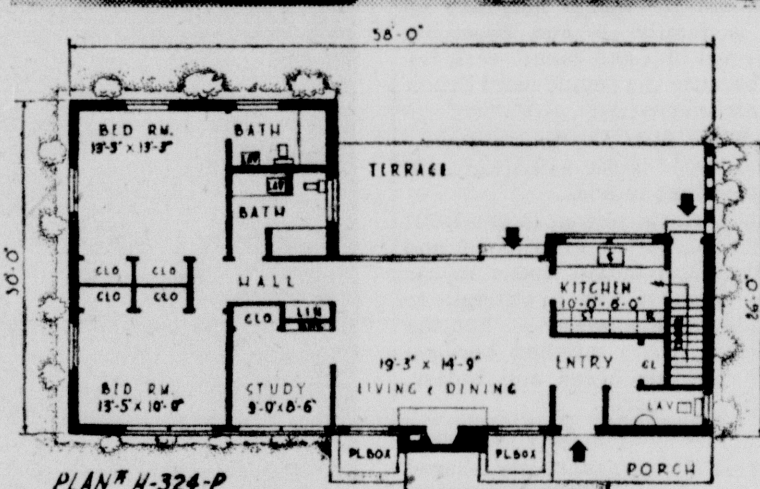

POWDERED SOAP OR DETERGENT: Soak a cloth in soap and water solution, wring out thoroughly and clean baseboards, backs and sides of stairs, cabinets and other wood surfaces. Go over radiators, too. Walls painted with enamel or high gloss paint may be washed with a mild application of detergent or soap. Wipe down closet walls. Scrub linoleum and wood floors with soapy water. Rinse with clear water. Wash wood painted furniture, overlapping washed areas so they won't streak when dry.

LIQUID OR PASTE WAX: Wax floors with self-polishing floor wax which needs no buffing or paste wax which takes longer to apply but leaves a prettier finish usually. Rubber tiles, asphalt tiles and linoleum in the kitchen should be waxed to a brilliant sheen. A thin film of liquid wax on woodwork will help protect it so that future soil, finger marks and spots will whisk off with a damp cloth. Apply the wax after the woodwork has been washed thoroughly and dried. This technique may be applied also to Venetian blinds, painted trim in the children's room, book cases.

SCOURING POWDER: Hard to beat for spots and finger marks that are stubborn, tile floors, bathroom walls, tub, basins. Good for scouring stove and oven parts. New sudsing type cleansers are especially good. One turns golden when wet.

SPOT REMOVERS: After vacuuming upholstered pieces, remove cushion sections, cleaning underneath, brushing away loose soil. Brush debris on to paper and burn to destroy moth eggs. Go over upholstery and rugs with moth spray using pressurized can or spray gun. Remove spots with spot remover. First make sure there is no dust in area to be cleaned. Use a soft clean cloth, testing cleaning fluid in an inconspicuous spot. If it works go ahead on the rest of the upholstery. Work in a room that has good air circulation. The cleaned area will dry quickly if an electric fan is allowed to blow on it.

GLASS CLEANERS: Use on all glass surfaces, windows, mirrors, chrome fixtures. Use to shine ice box, sink, stove and outside of bathtub making day-to-day wipe-up easier.

POLISHES: This is an excellent time to shine up darkened copper chafing dishes, silver coffee services, trays, etc. Paste silver polishes are safe, quick and efficient and there are any

Orpheus Choral Club, 15 Years Old, Has Built Fine Musical Reputation

By JOAN DeSHAMBO

Fifteen years ago, a group of people (approximately 33 of them) interested in forming a choral club organized under the direction of R. Paul Bowers, then director of music in the Escanaba schools, and began the Orpheus Choral Club.

The Orpheus organization presented its first concert Nov. 17, 1939 at the Escanaba Junior High School with Ruth Gessner, pianist, as the guest artist.

At the present time the group has a membership of 65 singers, nine of them charter members. Those people who helped organize the group and after 15 years are still an integral part of Orpheus are Ruth Ahlquist, Anona Anderson, Lila Wylie, Evelyn LaValle, Mabel Crebo, Irene Olson, Vivian Olson, Eva Flenstrom and Harold Crebo.

During the first years of the Orpheus Club, the Town Hall concerts subsidized the Orpheus group on their program. When the Town Hall concerts terminated, Orpheus resumed the concerts on its own.

Group Meets Weekly

Mr. Bowers left the Delta County area after directing the chorus for 10 years. Succeeding Mr. Bowers was Sam Ham, who directed the chorus for two years. He also took over the chorus one year while R. Paul Bowers was on a leave of absence. Since Mr. Ham's resignation as director, Mrs. M. H. Garrard has been directing the chorus for three years. Mrs. Garrard formerly was a director of music in the Dearborn Public School system. She was the accompanist for Orpheus four years before taking over the direction of the chorus.

This choral group meets weekly, every Tuesday night, until school ends for the year, and they begin again at the start of the school year. Chief reasons for the group's existence is the love for singing by the members and the contribution they are making to the community.

It is a voluntary organization, and any persons interested in joining the chorus may do so if they are able to sing a harmony part. Members also should be able to read music. Included in the present chorus are businessmen, teachers, students, nurses, housewives and others with varied professions.

"Too many people feel that Orpheus is a woman's group," Mrs. Garrard said. "Possibly this impression is held by different people because the women outnumber the 17 men, which should be the case in a mixed chorus. Men's voices are stronger and can carry a great deal further."

Youth Is Invited

Mrs. Garrard would like the chorus to include more people from the outlying districts. Members now belonging to the choral group live in Bark River, Rapid River and Gladstone in addition to Escanaba. The chorus is not a city organization, but it is a county chorus.

"I would like to encourage high school students, junior or senior level, to include themselves as part of the chorus if they have the desired qualities," Mrs. Garrard stated.

Almost every church choir in town is represented through the members of the Orpheus Choral Club.

The organization has no dues, but members are required to each buy a set of music for the coming year. They use that music the whole year and when they are finished with it, they turn the music into the club for use in the club library.

Officers Of Club

Officers of the Orpheus Choral Club are Lloyd Servant, president; Irene Olson, treasurer; Leona Anderson, secretary; Albin Olson, Escanaba business manager; Dale Teinert, Gladstone area business manager, and Ruth Ahlquist, librarian. Mrs. Clarence Moore has been the accompanist for the group for three years. She succeeded Mrs. Garrard.

The weekly meetings are rehearsals for which the music is selected at the beginning of each fiscal year. September until Christmas, the group works on Christmas material, which they present at various Christmas concerts. After the first of the year, they rehearse the music to be sung at their annual spring concert, being held May 11 at 8:15 p. m., at the Junior High School.

Orpheus members break the style of their music three ways—sacred material, secular music and light secular music. Many of the great classics lie in the sacred grouping while the secular music is more difficult than the light show tunes. Lighter music includes the show tunes, such as those from "South Pacific" and "The King and I."

This year's spring concert by the Orpheus Choral Club will include the show tune from "South Pacific," "Wonderful Copenhagen," "The Christian Anderson," "The Young Lovers" and "I Made a Happy Tune" from the "Song and I."

Policy of Orpheus has been to usually bring in a guest artist to group to give the audi-

APPEARING WITH ORPHEUS for their first concert, May 11, will be many new members. This organization always has a big turn over of members each new year due to various reasons, especially because present members move away and new residents enter in their places. Mrs. M. H. straight choral music. Guest artist at the annual concert this year will be Sheppard Lenhoff, Chicago violinist. Mr. Lenhoff is a member of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra and is a member of the ence more variety than they would gain from just an evening of Fine Art Quartet, featured on the AFC network.

The group also gives concerts throughout the year in neighboring towns. Annually they present a concert at Pinecrest Sanatorium for the tuberculosis patients. They also sing for local organizations.

"Music is a universal language; it has an appeal for all people," Mrs. Garrard ended. "A mixed chorus, such as Orpheus, in any community adds a cultural life to the town. Escanaba is a much better community for having such a group as this!"

Good Artist Must Have Fun In Art, Says Marsh

By W. G. ROGERS
Associated Press Arts Editor
NEW YORK (AP)—Listen to a man with a case against modernism in art:

"There are too many artists." "One art-school instructor tells his students to make a picture that looks like the model, the next one tells him to make his picture so that it does not look like the model."

"I do not believe in the crippled Cezanne way of taking four months to paint one apple." "Today's art world is not where artists are made, but where people have fun and paint what and how they please."

"Once upon a time when an artist dared not study the human body, he tried nevertheless to paint it; now when we know the body better than we ever did, we try not to paint it. We have all the learning but don't use it."

"I begin to be afraid the art of drawing man may be destroyed."

"What are comics but abstract art, decorative and flat?"

The speaker is sturdy, quiet-voiced Reginald Marsh, who on May 26 will be awarded, formally, with a speech and all, the Gold Medal of the National Institute of Arts and Letters. It's the 49th annual award, and given for the first time for graphic arts. As a sort of reminder of the company he'll be keeping, recipients of medals last year were Marianne Moore in poetry and Frank Lloyd Wright in architecture.

It's the company, of course, Marsh seems always to have kept. His father, who is going strong at 82, is painter and architect; his first wife was the sister of an art scholar and daughter of an artist, and his present wife is a painter; he was born in Paris, he says, or was told, in an apartment right above the Dome, the cafe that was the hub of about all the art circles in the western world, including some modernist movements which Marsh challenges.

But see him in his studio and you are reminded that the exalted company he keeps is not and never has been what he paints. From nine floors above the streets he looks down on squirming, frenetic Union Square, where Broadway empties into 14th Street and 14th into Broadway. And if Marsh can't see what he wants to see with his naked eye, he picks up a pair of field glasses and really scrutinizes.

Do I need to tell you of his subject matter? In sketch, watercolor and oil, he paints the girls saucily vaulting their charms on busy street corners, or showing off shamelessly in burlesque, or sprawling out boldly on the beach at Coney Island, or straddling the gaily colored horses of the merry-go-round.

It's a curious thing, he says, but he has painted scores of merry-go-round horses and their riders, but his father never knew it. His father, at his place in Ormond Beach, Fla., has strung along a sea wall a frieze of actual wooden horses rescued from merry-go-round junk heaps, and the son only recently knew about that.

His own long hours and hard work give him the unquestioned right to find fault with the artist today who, he charges, is more apt to skimp on work and concentrate on fun. He has, he estimates, a thousand sketch books; he always carries sketch paper and, with fountainpen, notes the man sleeping away his drunk on the edge of the walk, the girl leaning invitingly in the doorway, the intricate framework of the El.

Then he goes back and, at easel or drawing board, carries through his pictures in what is probably the most cluttered studio in North America.

You may have seen his murals as well as his easel paintings; his drawings are familiar to everyone in the art world; lately he has been working on illustrations for a Limited Editions "An American Tragedy."

Makes His Living By Cracking Safes

PARIS, Tex. (AP)—Sam Fuqua, a spry 78, makes his living opening safes. Never saw one he couldn't crack. Lawmen don't bother him. All his thousands of safe-crackings have been strictly legal.

From miles around, they call him to open jammed safes when burglars hit them, combinations fail or fire scorches them.

Fuqua's pet peeves are amateur safe-crackers who knock off the knobs and ruin the combinations. "They don't have a chance to open the safe," he frowns. "They just mess them up. And I have to clean up after them."

Professional safe-crackers usually do a nice, clean job explains Fuqua. But he admits the pros are few and far between these days. "Modern safes are just too tough for most of 'em."

Frank Karas Left Heritage Of Music That Community Will Never Forget

Thirty years ago the late Frank Karas came to Escanaba, looking for work. He was a musician — with a family — and Escanaba welcomed him and found work for him because the people liked Frank and his music.

In those days the theaters presented "live" music as background for the silent movies.

Frank Karas played in the Delft theater orchestra afternoons and evenings and taught music in his spare time. It was a struggle to provide for his family — but the musician was satisfied because music was his bread and butter, his life, his world.

Community Service

Frank Karas generously shared his love of music with the people of Escanaba.

He became a music teacher in the public schools and taught the youngsters to play and to know good music; he volunteered his services in playing solos for church services, memorial rites, school functions and other events. And as director of the Escanaba Municipal Band for many years he insisted on a perfection that challenged the musicians to meet his own high standard.

Then illness came, forcing him to relinquish many of his activities. He continued to teach a few promising students in private lessons. His time was limited.

Death came to Frank Karas on July 4, 1948.

But his world of music, his inspiration and his devotion to community service survive.

Karas Memorial

Today approximately 200 local musicians are preparing for their appearance in the second annual Karas Memorial Concert on May 4-5 at Escanaba Junior High School auditorium, for the benefit of the Karas Memorial Bandshell fund.

The musicians, the committee, all of the individuals and groups volunteer their time and talent to the Karas Concerts. They are perpetuating the inspiring tradition of good music and unselfish service exemplified by Frank Karas in his lifetime.

Behind the story of the Karas Memorial Bandshell is Roy Pearson, drummer in the Escanaba Municipal Band, friend and admirer of the late Frank Karas and chairman of the Karas Memorial Committee.

The Karas Memorial Bandshell campaign was born of Pearson's high regard for Karas and is sustained through his enthusiastic devotion to the community project. Mrs. Catherine Locke is secretary of the Karas Memorial Committee and Dr. Louis P. Groos is treasurer.

The Fund Grows

The Karas Memorial Committee comprises a group of persons who knew and admired Frank Karas or who share his love for music and are willing to devote their efforts to raising funds for his memorial as a project of benefit to the community.

Within the past three years contributions to the fund total $6,856.75, of which over $1,200 was raised in last year's successful first annual Karas Memorial Concert. The money is turned over to the city to assist in financing construction of the bandshell in Ludington Park.

Escanaba City Council has approved plans to prepare the bandshell site this year, and has scheduled construction of the shell for the summer of 1955.

Living Memorial

And so it is that people of Escanaba — and many from other communities in the area — have come to speak of Frank Karas as they would of a well-loved friend.

Perhaps there are newcomers who never heard of Frank Karas until they came here. Perhaps they do not know that Frank Karas was born Frantisek Karas in a small town near Prague in Czechoslovakia, studied the violin there as a youth, and came to America while still a young man.

In Chicago he met and married Helena Topinka, also from Czechoslovakia. They moved to Menominee, thence to Escanaba, where they settled with their family to become the beloved "Ma" and "Pa" Karas of the community.

Now through the Karas Memorial Concerts, inspired by the unselfish gift of music Frank Karas gave Escanaba, the people are supporting a project that will create greater musical enjoyment for more people.

COFFEE BREAK?

STROUD, Okla. (AP)—The Stroud American has come to the conclusion hard times are not here yet.

"We offered to give away a pound of coffee with each subscription," the paper said. "People called to see what kind it was before they came in, or if they came by and didn't like the brand, just passed by the offer."

THE LATE FRANK KARAS is shown here in a favorite photograph, teaching instrumental music to youngsters in Escanaba Public Schools. Hundreds of local youngsters got their musical start from Mr. Karas whose patient understanding of children and love for music endeared him to an entire generation of pupils.

Rock Family Finds Beaver Is Not Suitable As A Family Pet

ROCK—How would like to have a beaver for a pet? The Weldum family at Rock had this opportunity, but after a week of fun, they gave it back to nature.

It all started when 13-year-old Ronnie had set his heart on trapping beaver this season. His luck was good and Easter Sunday he found this little beaver in a trap he had not properly set.

Anyway, this little fellow, about the size of a woodchuck, was caught by the two toes of his hind foot. Usually beaver are vicious, but this little fellow was not. The boys brought him home.

Took Beaver To School

Here was this beaver with his big web hind feet and the front feet which serve as hands. He reminds one of a woodchuck or a porcupine, except for the needles. He never uttered a sound all the week he was in captivity, except to breathe loudly, when he was approached suddenly.

The boys, Ronnie and Ted, bandaged his foot and were all set to keep him for a pet. They also had named him Chippy. On Monday they brought him to school for all the students to see. He probably was a year old, but he would not climb out of the box with four inch high sides.

When he was put in the sink with some water, he would hold the poplar stick from underneath with one hand, and with the other he would turn it. He used those front feet like hands. He always began eating the bark off a stick from the left and by the time he got to the other end, there wasn't a piece of bark left and not a scratch on the stick, except it was minus the bark.

By Thursday he was quite at home. It seemed he liked to be petted. He walked all over the house and would sit up and wash his face. When he was taken outside to the shallow pond back of the barn, he would swim for awhile and then come to shore and sit on his hind feet, with that flat tail without fur for balance. He would sit straight up and comb his fur and face so to part the fur and dry it. He would sit there even if the boys would pet him.

While in the water, if they scared him, he would slap that tail on the water and dive under and then come up for a look again.

Plenty Destructive

By Thursday evening he would

Nancy Weldum and the Pet Beaver

not stay put, so he was left on the porch because nobody thought he could do any harm there. However in the morning the porch was a wreck. He had chewed off a hemlock windowsill to the wall. It looked just like someone took a hatchet and did and awful job. He also chewed off three legs of a bench. He did not eat it, just left the chips where they fell. He ate all the dog's mash, potatoes and even smelt fish bones. The wood was scattered, and pails knocked over, and finally he crawled in a pail and went to sleep.

It was planned that he would be brought back to his home after his foot got better because the conservation office does not issue permits to keep wild animals in captivity. However, after that Thursday night incident, it was decided to bring him back to the creek just a week after his capture.

It was a sad parting, but he is a lot happier back in his own surroundings, and nobody has to worry what he will have gnawed off during the night if he were tame enough to stay around the house by himself.

Bavarian Mountain Soldier Paradise

GARMISCH-PARTENKIRCHEN, Germany (AP)—Being a GI on duty in this Bavarian mountain city is as tough as getting $10 bills free. Most soldiers here look like recruiting ads.

A big U. S. Army rest and recreation center is busy constantly handling soldier visitors. But for the boys whose job it is to stay here a weekend pass can mean anything from a chamois hunt to a 60-mile an hour trip down a mountain on skis.

And the night time is not neglected. One big club features a dance floor which is dismantled every night while an ice skating troop cavorts before dining GIs.

One soldier cracked as he sipped a stein of foaming Bavarian beer:

"Yeah, I suppose I'll be going home one of these days—when I'm 80 years old"

Many East Indians, originally imported to work on sugar plantations, live in Trinidad which is in the West Indies and half a world away from the Orient.

Indo-China—The World's Oldest War

Communism's all-out battle for Indo-China was on. But Ho's natives were no match for the French regulars. Viet Minh troops fought with old rifles, bows and arrows, even spears against French machine guns, artillery, tanks and planes.

The rebels fled to the jungles. The French, aided by loyal Viet-Namese troops, began a tedious campaign to flush them out. The French dominated the country by day—but Ho's guerrillas spread terror at night.

Harassed Ho didn't dare have his headquarters in the same place for two days running. But he was able to fight this hit-and-run war for three years. And the French were losing it.

ABILITY COUNTS

Many of us go through life without accumulating a sizeable amount of material wealth, but in terms of higher values we come up far ahead.

We may not have hours to spend dawdling with poker chips, yachts and the like, but ours is the pride of a job well done, friendships based on true values, and the security and pleasure which come from knowing that others need and depend upon our abilities.

The man who creates a fortune materially is dependent upon either his ability, or the ability of others, yet often he misses the rich rewards which come only from recognition of one's own abilities, and the application of them.

The victory extended Escanaba's consecutive winning streak into its fourth season. Escanaba teams have won their last 29 games.

Breizman had Coach Walt Schousen's Eagles eating out of his hand all the way after the first inning in which Stephenson collected two singles. He had two men on base in the sixth inning but wasn't in trouble. Breitzman walked only one batsman.

Hits Two Homers

Escanaba's plate attack was paced by center fielder Roger Miron who parked two home runs over the right center field fence. First baseman Joe Larmy also unloaded a towering homer over the left field fence in the first inning with two on.

The Eskymos opened scoring in the first when Dave Viau singled as leadoff man. Jim Beck walked and Larmy blasted Nick Amen's pitch out of the park for a 3-0 lead.

In the fourth inning the Eskymos added two more when Breitzman singled and rode home on Miron's first homer. Escanaba added another run in the fifth when Bero was safe on an error, stole second and scored on a single to right field by Hugh Ray.

Adds Long Double

Miron closed out the Escanaba scoring in the sixth with his second home run shot off reliever Winters who came in for Amen in the third inning.

Larmy barely missed another homer when he followed Miron to the plate in the sixth. He slammed a long double off the snow fence in left center field. It was his third hit in four trips.

Officers To Attend Softball Meeting

George Grenholm, president and Keith Morin, secretary-treasurer of the Upper Peninsula Softball Association will attend the annual spring meeting tomorrow afternoon at 2 in Iron Mountain.

Also attending will be Bob Jensen, delegate of the Escanaba Softball Association. Election of officers for 1954 will be held and tournament sites will be named. A proposal for double elimination in the Class A Regional tournament will be considered.

HIGH JUMPER—Everett Groll of Cooks High School Thursday afternoon was the individual star in a triangular track meet at Manistique and came near setting a record with a jump of 5' 6 7/8". The well-coordinated Fairport athlete, who starred in the U. P. Central D and E League meet last year, scored 15 points in the meet this week and was first in each event which he entered. He set a track record by taking the 100-yard dash in 10.4 seconds, and also was first in the 180-yard low hurdles. He is scheduled to compete in the league meet at Escanaba next Friday. (Linderoth Photo)

Bob Trice Notches Third Win In Row For Philadelphia A's

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

If big Bob Trice can keep up his fast start he may make the jump from International League Rookie of the Year to American League Rookie of the Year in one season.

The lean, Georgia-born Negro, first of his race to play for the Philadelphia Athletics, has started, finished and won three games. And each time he's pitched he's gotten better.

This year he made his first start against Boston and won 6-4 even though he was reached for 11 hits. In his second appearance he shut out the New York Yankees 1-0 on six hits. Friday night against the Baltimore Orioles he had a one-hit shutout going for eight innings and wound up with a 5-1 three hitter.

Pilette's First Loss

The loss was the first of the year for Duane Pilette who had won two.

Trice, who is 25, is only one full season away from Class C ball. He won 16 and lost 3 for St. Hyacinthe in the Provincial League in 1952 and played 62 games as an outfielder that same season.

Trice's fine pitching pushed the Athletics into third place in the American League, a game and a half behind the fast moving Chicago White Sox who whipped Boston 5-0 for their ninth victory in 11 games.

Detroit outlasted Washington 2-1 in 12 innings and Cleveland thumped the Yankees 9-4 with a five run explosion in the 10th inning at New York.

Dodgers Take Lead

In the National League Brooklyn took over first place from Cincinnati by beating the Redlegs 6-3. The New York Giants shaded the Chicago Cubs 4-2 in 14 innings on Willie Mays' home run and the Philadelphia Phillies defeated Milwaukee 5-2. Pittsburgh was rained out at St. Louis.

Bob Keegan, who never has been a big spring winner, scattered nine hits for his third straight success for the White Sox. He's won eight in a row over two seasons.

Chicago got two quick runs in the first inning off Sid Hudson on two singles, an error and a sacrifice fly. Keegan was in trouble in the seventh and eighth but a double play got him out of the seventh and faultily base running by Jackie Jensen helped him in the eighth when the Red Sox collected three singles.

Needed Big Out

Washington's Bob Porterfield needed only one more out for a three-hit shutout against Detroit. Then the Tigers crashed three successive singles to tie the score and went on to win with three more singles in the 12th.

The Indians found the range in the 10th against Whitey Ford, battering the Yankee relief pitcher for a triple, three singles and a walk good for five runs.

Sal Maglie, written off as a has been in the late stages of the 1953 campaign, became the first pitcher in either league to win four games. To do it he had to pitch the longest game of his career.

First Workout For Cardinals Called

MANISTIQUE — All persons wishing to play baseball with the Manistique Cardinals this year have been asked to report to the Cardinal field at 1:30 Sunday for practice.

Fred Lesica again will manage the Cardinals, who last year won the Bay de Noc League championship playoff by taking two of three games from Cooks.

All positions in the lineup are open and both old players and interested newcomers are invited to the workout Sunday.

The Cardinals this year will be without the services of their catcher, Dick Makinen, who is in military service.

St. Joe Trojans Set Doubleheader Sunday

The St. Joe Trojans will open their 1954 home baseball schedule with a doubleheader Sunday afternoon against Bark River and Bishop Baraga of Marquette at the city diamond.

Coach Tom St. Germain's Trojans will meet the Bark River Broncos in a 1 o'clock clash and then take on the Baragans at 3.

St. Joe dropped a 9-1 decision to the Stephenson Eagles Wednesday afternoon in its only start thus far this season.

Both Bark River and Baraga will be playing for the first time this year.

St. Germain will make his choice of hurlers from among Dick Cass, Gary Paler and John Berrigan.

Remainder of the St. Joe lineup will be the same as at Stephenson with Bill Maycunich behind the plate, Gary Guertin at first, Bill Lancour at second, Jim Greenwood at short, Bob Rodman at third, Bob Dubord in left field, Cliff O'Donnell in center field and Dick Juetten in right field.

Tri County Baseball Meeting Set Tuesday

The Tri-County Baseball League will meet Tuesday evening, May 4th at 8 p. m., EST at John Bartozek's in Perronville.

The league now has seven teams and any team interested in joining the loop should be present. The schedule will be drawn up at the meeting.

Redskins Lose Diamond Debut

HERMANVILLE — The entry of Hermansville High School into the Little Seven Conference baseball picture was marred by a 14-2 defeat at the hands of Alpha here yesterday afternoon.

John Kocinski allowed the Redskins only three hits. Three Hermansville hurlers gave up 10 safeties.

Nine Hermansville errors paved the way to defeat.

Patton Seeking Amateur Crown

PINEHURST, N.C. — A sharp looking white jacket was pressed and hanging in Billy Joe Patton's locker here today as he headed for the finals duel with Alex Welsh in the 54th North and South Amateur Golf Tournament.

Patton said he bought the coat last month to wear at the Masters Tournament at Augusta, Ga., because he wanted "to look nice when they presented me something."

The bespectacled Morganton, N.C., lumberman whose third place finish in the Masters brought him national acclaim and a match with President Eisenhower, scored a 3 and 2 semifinal victory Friday. So did Welsh, the 34-year-old Rockford, Ill., attorney.

Patton's victim was William Hyndman, Abington, Pa., who last year also lost in the semifinals, to Bill Campbell, the winner in the finals. Welsh won from Frank Meacham of Roanoke Rapids, N.C. Patton, seven under par in winning four earlier matches, was two over par against Hyndman and won the last four holes by coming from behind to close out.

Also somewhat off his earlier form, Welsh was five over against Meacham, who was playing his first North - South. Welsh, third round loser last year, won five holes in a row going out and was six up through the 10th before Meacham settled down.

Says Hydrogen Punch Will Win

BANGKOK, Thailand — A Kim Seng Thaisakivit thinks he knows who is going to win the world bantamweight championship here Sunday night — challenger Chambers Songkitrat, a police lieutenant on working days.

The reason for Thaisakivit's reckoning is this — he is the sole possessor of the secret of the hydrogen punch. This punch, says Thaisakivit, shatters concrete walls when applied to concrete walls.

He is going to give the secret of this punch to Songkitrat just before the fight. The victim, if he should be mentioned, is supposed to be James Carruthers of Australia, currently world bantam weight champion. Songkitrat, master of the kick to the jaw in the old Thai fighting days, and Carruthers who has dynamited 11 of his last 19 opponents, wound up training Friday.

Vulcan Stops Powers 4-2 In Little Seven

VULCAN — The Vulcan Giant Killers stopped Powers 4-2 here yesterday in a Little Seven Conference clash behind four-hit pitching by Bob Alexander who fanned 14.

Vulcan scored all four runs in the fourth inning on three singles, an error and several mental lapses in the Powers infield.

Ralph Veaser went the route for Powers, allowing six hits, all singles, fanning seven and walking one.

Powers shut off another Vulcan threat in the fifth with a double play.

Powers will be in action again Tuesday afternoon at 2 against Felch. The game was set back to Tuesday after first being slated for Monday.

Richest Kentucky Derby Has 18 Entries, Five Top Challengers

By ORLO ROBERTSON

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — The Kentucky Derby, America's premier horse race, will be run for the 80th time at sprawling Churchill Downs today with five outstanding contenders for the richest winner's purse in its history and 13 other 3-year olds apparently just out for the ride.

The 18 colts, whose names were dropped into the entry box Friday, are survivors from an original 137 nominated for this $100,000 added mile and one-quarter glamor race starting at 4:30 p.m. CDT.

Correlation Heads List

Heading the field are Correlation, owned by Los Angeles oilman R. S. Lytle; Goyamo, representing the Woodvale Farm of Royce G. Martin at Toledo, Ohio, and Mrs. W. Alton Jones, wife of a Cities Service Oil Co. executive; Hasty Road, pride of A. E. Reuben's Hasty House Farm of Toledo; Determine from the stable of automobile dealer A. J. Crevelin of Alhambra, Calif.; and C. V.

Whitney's scrappy little Fisherman from New York.

If all 18 parade to the post as the band strikes up "My Old Kentucky Home" the owner of the winning horse will bank a net of $102,800 compared to the previous high of $98,050 won in 1951 by Count Turf. The race will gross $124,850, only a little over a thousand short of the high mark three years ago.

LOUISVILLE (AP)—Early arrivals at Churchill Downs for today's 80th Kentucky Derby were greeted by a heavy shower and more rain was expected before post time for the race at 5:30 p. m. (CST).

The weather man forecast showers, but it will take much more than a few showers to mar the carefully groomed racing strip. It'll be cloudy and humid.

Expect 100,000 Fans

Some 100,000 persons, forming a cross section of American life, planned to be on hand for the big event which will be televised nationally by the Columbia Broadcasting System from 4 to 4:45 p.m. CDT, and broadcast by the same company from 4:15 to 4:45.

Correlation, already winner of two $100,000 races this season, the Florida Derby and the Wood Memorial last Saturday, was an early 5 to 2 favorite.

The lanky son of Free America will be ridden by Willie Shoemaker.

Goyamo holds down the second spot at 4 to 1 chiefly because of his victory in the recent Blue Grass Stakes at Keeneland. He was 2nd behind Correlation in the Florida Derby and again will be ridden by the king of all derby jockeys, Eddie Arcaro, who has had five winners in 14 attempts.

The contest for third spot in the pre-race odds is just as close as last Tuesday's race in the derby trial in which Hasty Road set a mile track record of 1:35 to edge the little grey westerner, Determine.

Leading Money-Winner

Hasty Road, all-time leading money winning two-year old in 1953, was quoted at 5 to 1. Determine was 6 to 1.

Running mates were entered for both Hasty Road and Determine in Sea O Erin and Allied. Hasty Road will have Johnny Adams in the saddle. And Determine will be ridden by Ray York.

Fisherman, ridden by Hedley Woodhouse, completes the big five. Badly beaten by Correlation in the Wood after stumbling at the starting gate, Fisherman showed enough in the Gotham at Jamaica to warrant a chance at the big prize.

Best of the others figured to be James Session, twice conqueror of Determine and the hope of band-leader Harry James and his movie actress wife, Betty Grable; Sam Wilson Jr.'s Texas-owned King Phalanx; R. W. Melvain's Hasyseampa, and Black Metal, Mrs. Elizabeth Graham's bid for her second derby win. She won in 1947 with Jet Pilot.

Rest Of Field

Completing the field are Dr. A. L. Birch's Timely Tip; Joe W. Brown's Mel Leavitt; Red Hannagan from the Woodley Lane Farm of Joseph Straus and LaFayette Ward of San Antonio, 6Tex., and Stephen B. Wilson of Providence, R. I.; Close Out, owned by J. C. Pollard and T. I. Harkins; William G. Gruber's Super Devil; Gov. Browning, the Tennessee horse of K. R. Martin and W. N. McKinney; and Admiral Porter, owned by I. Blumberg's Sunny Blue Farm.

Tigers Earn Brilliant 2-1 Victory Over Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some high heroics at bat and on the pitching mound pulled out a sensational 2-1 victory for the Detroit Tigers over the Washington Senators in 12 innings Friday night.

Today the ambitious Bengals still were pressing the first place Chicago White Sox, hopeful of overtaking them before Sunday's New York invasion.

Three singles after two were out in the ninth gave Detroit the tying run Friday night. Three more singles put over the winner in the 12th inning of a ding-dong fight lasting two hours and 47 minutes.

Branca Gets Win

Ned Garver held the Senators to five hits before retiring in the ninth for a pinch hitter. It was his third fine showing this season.

Ralph Branca received credit for the game. He pitched the 10th and 11th. George Zuverink, the recent buy from Cincinnati, finished it off.

Bob Porterfield, allowing only 10 hits, went all the way for Washington.

He had two men out in the Tiger ninth and Washington led 1-0 when Jim Delsing, Harvey Kuenn and Ray Boone delivered successive singles, Delsing scoring the tying run on Boone's blow.

Tuttle's Big Hit

The same thing almost happened in the 12th. Boone opened with a single and, after Walt Dropto went out, Al Kaline also singled. Rookie Bill Tuttle then singled into center to score Boone.

Zuverink hurled the final inning. He led Senators single with one out but got the next two men on a fly and a bouncer to the box.

The Tigers and Senators play again today with Steve Gromek seeking his fourth straight win for Detroit.

The new fields of Journalism are opening as old fields are expanding." He also stressed that "There is an increasing demand for new talent in newspaper work that is unfolding opportunities for those willing to work." He stressed the need for accuracy and also the need for safeguarding the freedom of the press in regards to both editorial and news matters.

SPALDING—A letter of appreciation was received from Battle Creek by Mrs. Tim Loeffler, Red Cross Production Chairman of the Menominee County Chapter, for the 24 bed jackets made by the local women. A special mention was made of the attractive colors and excellent workmanship put into the garments.

Rock Junior Play Wins Applause Of Large Audience

ROCK—The Rock juniors delighted a large audience Tuesday evening at the Rock High School gym with their performances in the presentation of the class play, "Always In Trouble," written by Walter Ben Hare.

Terry Hade played the part of Misery Moon so well that the audience found it hard to think of him as anything but a colored man getting involved in some peculiar trouble all the time.

Gideon Blair, a cranky 93 year old multi-millionaire was aptly characterized by Roger Ramseth who spent his time in a wheel chair not because he was an invalid, but because he could order people around better that way. He was forever firing somebody.

The three act comedy took place in a railroad station in Slabtown, Missouri. Mr. Blair owned the railroad.

Hiriam Tull, alias, Shhh! Not so loud, was well played by Gilbert Walimaa. He was a scared little man who provided many a chuckle, always rushing to escape his Russian wife who was after him with a bomb.

Fitted to Role

Howard Aalto was a natural as the slick young Tom Rissle who had a trying time trying to get a million dollars from Blair and yet not marry Blair's niece because he thought the housekeeper was the niece. Very good acting was done on the part of Helen Hallinen as the old maid housekeeper.

Gerald Saari was at home as a ticket seller who usually said what he thought, even to Mr. Blair. Lulu Pearl, the lunch counter girl, was played by Doris Hill, and Martinn Sinaeve played the part of Paula Maleek, the Russian wife of Tull.

Pat Lusardi was Rosebud, Blair's granddaughter whom Tom was supposed to marry to get a million.

Extras in the play were the following sophomores: Verna Norman, Sharon Sayen, Joyce Aalto, Ronald Hill, Jack Lund, and Ralph Anderson.

The play was directed by Mrs. Arnold Sayen.

Special Numbers

Specialties between acts included a tap dance number, by Bonnie Campbell, dressed as a little colored boy. She was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Olga Staples. Gary Johnson entertained the audience with two accordion solos, "Neapolitan Nights" and "Beautiful Heaven".

"Man", a vocal selection was offered by the following high school girls: Verna Norman, Joyce Aalto, Helen Hallinen, Nancy Saari, Doris Hill, Sharon Sayen, Beverly Lehto, Lucille Lund and Martinn Sinaeve. Piano accompaniment was furnished by Pat Lusardi.

Dispute Shaping Up On Osgood

By JAMES A. O. CROWE
Outdoor Writer

LANSING (P)—The move of some conservation commissioners to "get" Wayland Osgood, deputy conservation director, should come to a head next week.

The commission will meet next Thursday and Friday at Higgins Lake training school. At that time, it should come clear how effective were the forces that have risen in Osgood's defense.

These forces include the legislative conservation committees and the officers of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs.

Secret Meeting

They sprang to Osgood's side when it became known that the commission held a secret meeting April 11 to discuss demoting Osgood. The ostensible reason was dissatisfaction of some commissioners with Osgood's record as legislative representative for the Conservation Department.

But it is no secret that the real complaints stem far back into history to the days of the late conservation director P. J. Hoffmaster, with whom Osgood was closely associated.

It has been learned that the prime movers in the demotion move are commissioners Donald B. McLouth of Detroit and Joseph P. Rahilly of Newberry. They have a long record of opposition to Hoffmaster, and now it appears to have cropped out again, directed at Osgood.

Pressures Applied

Ranged on the opposite side in firm support of Osgood are commissioners George A. Griffiths of Grayling and Shirley W. Allen of Ann Arbor.

This leaves in the middle ground, subject to pressures from both sides, commission chairman Lawrence J. Gottschall of Baldwin and commissioners Peter J. Calcaterra of Norway and Robert F. Brevitz of Battle Creek.

It is to these more or less neutrals that the pressures in behalf of Osgood have been directed.

The House Conservation and Fish and Fisheries committees, with which Osgood principally deals during legislative sessions, are planning to present a petition strongly urging his retention at the commission meeting.

Be all that as it may, Osgood's real strength lies in that he has full civil service status in his job. The commission can not demote him without approval of the Civil Service Commission.

Nothing has been charged or even hinted at against Osgood that is serious enough to make a civil service case, in the opinion of civil service department sources.

Sen. Ferguson Says He'll Seek Reelection To Third Senate Term

WASHINGTON (P)—Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.) today announced his candidacy for re-election.

The GOP Senate policy chief's announcement came as no surprise.

Ferguson was first elected to the Senate in 1942. He is seeking a third six-year term.

Former Sen. Blair Moody and Patrick V. McNamara, Detroit school board member, are in a contest for the Democratic senatorial nomination.

Ferguson said Don R. Mitchell of Owosso, Mich., will head a 50-member campaign committee to raise funds and work for his re-election. Mitchell is president of Mitchell-Bentley Corp., which has a manufacturing plant at Ionia.

Ferguson gave other Michigan GOP members of Congress the first word of his candidacy at a breakfast in a private dining room at the Capitol.

Afterward, Rep. Wolcott, dean of the delegation, said Ferguson would have his "enthusiastic" backing.

Sylvia Wentland

ENGADINE—Sylvia Wentland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wentland of Engadine, has been named valedictorian of the 1954 Engadine High School graduating class. She has been an outstanding student during her four years of high school. She was a student council member four years, council president one year, Junior class president, band secretary, editor of the school paper two years, band and orchestra member of the Junior and Senior class plays and pianist for all school's social functions. She received a music scholarship from Central Michigan College of Education. Mount Pleasant, where she will attend college in September.

Flint Pair Found Slain In Cellar

FLINT (P)—Police summoned to the home of Mrs. Gertrude Secord, 42, Thursday night found her and her estranged husband, Herbert, 55, shot to death in the basement. The water was still running into a washing machine at which Mrs. Secord had been at work.

Police Lt. Loren Herfurth said the husband, an auto factory worker, had shot Mrs. Secord three times with a 12 gauge shotgun and then killed himself with the weapon. It lay beside his body.

The police said the Secords, married for nine years, separated two weeks ago. Before shooting himself, Secord sought to calm his two stepdaughters, his wife's children by a previous marriage.

The two, Karen Leslie, 13, and Valerie Leslie, 19, heard what sounded like shots while they were upstairs. They called out, they said.

"Everything's all right," Secord called back from the basement. Then they heard another shot and ran in alarm from the house. They called police.

The girls said their stepfather had been visiting their mother in an attempt at reconciliation.

Decision Investigated

BATTLE CREEK (P)—Rep. Shafer (R-Mich.) says Congress may name a special committee to inquire into the Defense Department's decision to move the Armed Services Procurement agency from Brooklyn, N. Y., to Percy Jones Hospital here.

Couzens Bequest All Given Away

DETROIT (P)—The 12 million dollars that the late Sen. James Couzens gave away—so children might be happier—was all spent by midnight last night.

For the Children's Fund of Michigan, a wealthy man's famed benefaction, was specifically directed to spend all its money within a period of 25 years.

Couzens so ordered when he set up the fund in 1929, seven years before his death.

Sen. Couzens, who made vast wealth from the automobile industry as a onetime partner of Henry Ford, established the fund with one thought in mind—children's welfare.

His millions went to children's hospitals and clinics, research and health education.

The laboratories of hospitals, impoverished families, town and county health departments, all benefited.

William J. Norton, executive vice president of the fund, summed up the 25 years:

"The fund has not been used to aid individual cases as much as it has been used to initiate enterprises which would continue on, once they were given a good start."

The victims were:

Mrs. Ada Jones, of Detroit.
An unidentified girl about five years old.

Earl Talbot, 21, of Three Oaks, one of those critically injured, told police he was with Mrs. Nelson and two brothers in the Nelson auto which was driving east on the highway. Talbot said the Williams car approached them on the wrong side of the road.

Others in critical condition were:
David Savage, 18, and his brother, James, 16, of Three Oaks;
Elizah Williams, 57, and his wife Evelyn, Detroit.

CHARLES D. KING, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bellefeuille, Rt. No. 1, Gladstone is completing his Air Force basic military training course at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

State Building Plans Mixed Up

LANSING (P)—Legislative circles today discounted the seriousness of a mixup which complicated the start of eight major construction projects at state institutions.

The mixup occurred because the Legislature forgot to give the State Administrative Board authority to award contracts for the full amount of a project after the lawmakers had provided only the amount which could be spent in one year.

C. J. McNeil, legislative auditor and advisor to the appropriating committees, said, "The Legislature made its intention clear by specifying the total amount which each project may cost, even though it did not provide all the money this year."

That, said McNeil, is sufficient authority for the board to issue contracts for the full amount of the projects. However, state controller, John W. Lederle was not satisfied. After a conference with Gov. Williams, Lederle said he would discuss the problem further with legislative leaders.

Williams asked the matter be presented to the administrative board next Tuesday.
